Digital Growth & Transformation | AI & Automation Strategist |
Marketing Innovation | Ex-Amazon
Bavaria, Germany

Summary

As a digital business leader with extensive years of experience, I help organizations unlock growth through scalable marketing, automation, and data-driven innovation. From launching new platforms to turning around underperforming operations, I bring a hands-on, cross-functional approach to transformation—rooted in strategy and powered by technology.

At Amazon, I led EU-wide initiatives across Kindle Direct Publishing and BuyVIP, doubling market revenue, streamlining operations across five countries, and driving automation using Python, SQL, and process tools. My leadership spans tech, financial services, and consumer sectors and publishing - with a focus on building high-performing teams and delivering measurable business outcomes.

What I do best:

- Lead digital transformation and marketing innovation
- Design and implement AI-based automation solutions
- Scale online businesses across borders
- Advise executives on growth, restructuring, and technology alignment

Whether working with global corporations or advising fast-scaling teams, I operate at the intersection of business strategy and operational execution—with a proven track record of delivering results.
